Dear Sir,

At the recently concluded IOPEPC conference in Thailand, the sesame crop estimates, done via satellite surveys and latest technology have shown the Indian winter crop sesame at about 101,000 Mt.

This has caused panic in the Indian markets as we are heading into our peak consumption period and local demand tends to be high during this period, irrespective of prices.

A result of this data and local price moment is the covering of material from other origins like Brazil and Nigeria, currently the only options available to India. As per last reports with us, Nigeria and Brazil are both at USD. 1350.00 pmt cfr India for Nov – Dec shipments. We have also heard that there is limited unsold cargo in Brazil so India needs to augment supply for immediate shipments which would arrive before the end of the calendar year preferably.

Current FOB levels are as below for Nov – Dec shipments –

Natural Whitish Sortex Sesame – USD. 1900.00 pmt

Natural Jet Black Sortex Sesame – USD. 2625.00 pmt

Hulled Sesame, Min 99.97 % purity – USD. 1995.00 pmt

For EU / USA / Taiwan, the pricing is as follows

Natural Whitish Sortex Sesame – USD. 1950.00 pmt

Natural Jet Black Sortex Sesame – USD. 2750.00 pmt

Hulled Sesame, Min 99.97 % purity – USD. 2050.00 pmt
